VOL. V. NO. 21.

NEW YORK, Saturday, May 23, 1874.

WHOLE NO. 123

GREAT SALE OF STEREOTYPE PLATES.

Tuesday Morning, May 26th, at Eleven o'clock, at the TRADE SALE ROOMS.

PUBLICATIONS of Messrs. GOULD & LINCOLN, Boston.*

TERMS OF SALE.

On all amounts less than $300, Cash; more than $300, three months credit for approved endorsed notes.

In consequence of a change in our business affairs we propose to dispose of a portion of our STEREOTYPE PLATES AND COPYRIGHTS, and will sell at auction the following valuable works (see catalogue, now ready). Several of the works are of recent issue, and have received the unqualified commendations of the press, and every work in the list has to a greater or less extent a regular annual sale. Persons purchasing Plates, will be furnished any printed stock on hand, if desired, at cost.

Works having a star (*) against them are subject to a moderate copyright or premium on sales.

Having removed from store 59 Washington Street, occupied by us for nearly forty years, to Chambers, in the next building (57), and the firm dissolved by the retirement of the junior partner, the business will be continued in our new quarters under the old firm name (confining ourselves mainly to the sale of our own publications), where we shall be happy to welcome our friends and the trade generally, and to receive from them, as heretofore, a liberal patronage.

GEO. A. LEAVITT & CO.,

Clinton Hall, New York.

Messrs. JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

The Legend of Jubal, and other Poems.

By George Eliot, author of "Adam Bede," "Middlemarch," etc. 1 vol., 16mo. Uniform with the "Spanish Gypsy." Bevelled boards, $1.50.

The publication of a new book by George Eliot marks a red-letter day in literature. Her poetry is of the same high quality as her prose—characterized by the same wise and lofty strain of thought, the same profound loyalty to the noblest intellectual and moral ideals, the same deep and tender sympathy with human aspiration and endeavor and suffering, and the same remarkable power of forcible and graceful expression.

Poetical Works of Robert Buchanan.

Newly collected, revised and rearranged. In 5 vols. 12mo. Vols. 1 and 2 now ready. With fine Portrait of the Author. Bevelled edges, gilt top. $2.50 per vol.

"Mr. Buchanan, one of the prominent poets of the time, is not an echo of any other poet. His song is original and spontaneous. He has studied deeply at many imaginative springs, but his own well of song is unmixed with their waters. . . . In such a way as was never before accomplished, we believe, Mr. Buchanan has, in his London lyrics, come between society and the degraded beings who have been the objects of its contempt and disgust, and has acted as an interpreter. It is poetry of this description which will succeed in retaining its hold upon humanity."—The Contemporary Review.

Poems. By H. R. Hudson.

1 vol. 16mo. $1.50.

Those who have read "The Newsboy's Debt," one of the most touching poems in modern literature, and those who have recognized the lyrical excellence of Miss Hudson's poetical contributions to the "Atlantic Monthly," "Harper's Magazine," and other periodicals, will give a cordial greeting to this volume. Several of the poems, some of the longest and best, have never before been printed. The tastefulness of the volume will fitly commend the poems to the favor of the public.

Mountaineering in the Sierra Nevada.

By Clarence King, United States Geologist. New, enlarged edition. Containing very considerable additions and two new maps. 1 vol. 12mo. $2.00. (Originally published at $2.50.)

"A book bracing in tone, vivid in description, exciting in adventure, and abounding in valuable information. Since Tyndall's volume on the Alps, we have read nothing so vigorous and stimulating as Mr. King's narrative of mountain exploration; and it exceeds Tyndall's in the novelty of its subject. The accounts of the ascent of Mount Tyndall, of Mount Shasta, and Mount Whitney are records of 'brave campaigns into the unknown realm of Nature,' as full of danger as of excitement."—E. P. WHIPPLE, in Boston Globe.

"Possesses an eye and a pen for the most impressive aspects of nature."—Saturday Review (London)

Baddeck and that Sort of Thing.

By Charles Dudley Warner. 1 vol. 18mo. Saunterer's Series. $1.50.

"A delightful little handy volume, with a good deal of information about the people, customs, and scenery of Nova Scotia and thereabouts, and a delicious humor that contributes marvellously to the reader's enjoyment."

Workingmen's Homes.

By Edward E. Hale. 16mo. Paper, 75 cents; cloth, $1.25.

CONTENTS: Co-operative Homes—The Quincy Association—The Village in Dedham—Cheap Trains in Massachusetts—Homes for Boston Laborers—Boston Co-operative Society—How they lived at Naguadavick—How they live in Vineland—How they live in Boston and how they die there.

Life under Glass.

Containing Suggestions toward the Formation of Artificial Climates. By George A. Shove. $1.00.

An ingenious and not chimerical plan for bringing the tropics into New England in Winter, and Arctic coolness in Summer, for the comfort and cure of invalids, especially of consumptives.

Good Luck.

By E. Werner. Translated from the German by Frances A. Shaw. Paper, 75 cts.; cloth, 1.25

NOTES IN SEASON.

IMPORTANT SALE.—The attention of publishers is called to Leavitt's announcement in today's issue, of the great sale of stereotype plates, including more than 100 sets of the well-known and substantial publications of Messrs. Gould & Lincoln, Boston, who, in consequence of the business change mentioned in our last issue, have resolved to dispose of a portion of their plates and copyrights. The sale will take place on Tuesday morning, May 26, at 11 o'clock, at Leavitt's Trade Sale Rooms, Clinton Hall, N. Y. Catalogues supplied on application.

HENRY L. SHEPARD & CO. announce as ready to-day the following seasonable books: Jules Verne's summer book "Adventures in the Land of the Behemoth," small 8vo, fully illustrated, at the low price of $1 50.; "Money and Music," an art story, by Chas. Barnard, the author of "Soprano"; a literary curiosity, Mother Goose and Fables in Latin, under the title "Nugae Inutiles," by J. M. Merrick; and new elegant editions of Rand's popular Garden Books, as specified in advertisement. H. L. Shepard & Co. also advertise that they have the trade control of the celebrated Tribune extras and can supply them to the trade at a liberal discount.

MR. F. H. UNDERWOOD's "forthcoming fiction" "Lord of Himself," about ready at Lee & Shepard's, is a novel of life in Kentucky thirty years since. The hero follows the usual career of the young gentleman of his day, and has what is popularly called "a good time." Just as the money gives out, comes along the heiress heroine, with whom he falls desperately in love, but who withholds her hand until he has retrieved his past and become again "Lord of Himself." The book is said to be lively and vigorous.

Among other immediate publications of the Harpers are a new addition to Miss Muloch's "Books for Girls," that pretty and clever little series; the story of "Miss Moore," by Georgiana M. Craik; Minister Motley's book; the new edition of Mill's Logic; and a new book by Dr. S. Irenaeus Prime, a volume of thirty brief essays, which he says were mostly "written out of doors, and the author yields to the request of others in putting them under the cover of a book." They are on a wide variety of summer topics and semi-religious subjects, and are very pleasant and delightful reading.

PORTER & COATES, of Philadelphia, have in press "Pennsylvania Illustrated," a handbook of Pennsylvania, with numerous illustrations of the most picturesque and other places of interest in the State, and some interesting information regarding the same. A second edition of Mme. Schwartz's "Gerda" is being called for.

THE ATLANTIC serials will be issued immediately, Mr. Aldrich's "Prudence Palfrey" by Osgood, and Rev. Wm. M. Baker's "Mose Evans" by Hurd & Houghton. The first is another Portsmouth story, with far West episodes, very delicate in some of its portraiture, and ending, of course, with a thorough surprise; the second is a very vigorous story of Western character.

Now come the summer days, when the fairer sex in particular loll in their chambers, or play at dolce far niente under the trees or on the beach, and must have novels to read. Of course, the supply meets the demand, and at this time of the year it is novels which give the publishers' presses a good share of their work. Therefore, bring out your lines of novels into especial prominence on your tables, and take special care to stock up wisely with new goods, for novel-readers properly like novelty. Nevertheless, the great novels sell always, always fresh in the eternal freshness of truth.

Amateur Publishers.

IT seems to be a popular superstition that the American publisher revels in oceans of the jingling greenback, as John Paul calls it, and that one has only to publish a book to make a "tarnal fortune" at once. We suppose it is in this frame of mind that the newspapers, which ought to know better, occasionally trench upon the regular trade. The latest case is that of the Evening Telegraph, of Philadelphia, which is playing publisher just now in opposition to the Harpers. That journal has been publishing serially its own translation of Victor Hugo's "Ninety-three," and now proposes to issue it in complete form in rivalry with the Harper's edition, as it has the perfect legal right to do. But the thing doesn't pay. The public will however be the gainer, for the Harpers propose to issue immediately a paper edition at twenty-five cents. The same journal is now printing "A Very Young Couple" (Scribners), but whether it will reprint in complete form we do not know; in that case the Scribners propose a like course with the Harpers. These semi-occasional publishers are outside the "courtesy" and rules of the trade, and if they choose this course can scarcely complain of the retaliation. But we can assure others who desire to play at publishing, that the business is not quite as rich a gold mine as they seem to think. Amateur publishing is in the nature of things usually disastrous.

The Book Trade Union.

We learn from Mr. John H. Thomas, Corresponding Secretary of the American Book Trade Union, that over 400 endorsements of the action of the Convention have been received from booksellers all over the country, and that this number has been added to the membership of the Union.

A meeting of the Executive Committee to which many other booksellers in the region were invited, was held in Columbus, Ohio, on May 5th, and was numerously attended. It was called to meet with Mr. Aston, who comes East soon, and to consider what had been done and devise plans for the future. Mr. J. W. Gunn, Corresponding Secretary, read many of the letters he has received from all parts of the country endorsing the movement and making suggestions.

It was resolved to hold the next General Meeting at Put-in Bay, on the 21st, 22d, and 23d of July, when the Committee on Prices and Underselling will make their report of their conference with the publishers, and arrangements are being made to have addresses and papers of interest prepared for that occasion.

Mr. Hubbard, of Columbus, was appointed chairman with authority to determine number and names of members for a committee to secure half-fare rates on all the leading railroads.

Messrs. Brown of Toledo, Gunn of Springfield, and Olds of Sandusky were appointed a committee to make arrangements for accommodation at Put-in Bay and vicinity at the usual reduced rates.

As soon as the details of the arrangements are completed the committee proposes to send out 3,000 circulars, that every bookseller in the United States may be informed of them.

They have already written to booksellers in thirty leading cities in different States calling attention to these points and asking them to stir up interest in this movement and the July meeting in their localities, and suggesting that they call preliminary meetings in railroad centres, each for his section, and form district organizations, that they may learn who can attend at Put-in Bay and formally authorize them to act and vote as representatives.

The committee will spare no effort to make this meeting notable in the history of the American book trade, and they have reason to hope that there will be a full representation of the whole of the trade in the United States.

Mr. Hubbard writes us that he is making satisfactory arrangements by which booksellers from the extreme Northwest and Southwest may reach the Convention at half rates, come on East to transact their business, and return to their homes on an excursion ticket at low rates, thus killing two birds with one stone.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

NINETY-THREE, by Victor Hugo. Translated by Frank Lee Benedict. (Harper & Bros.) A Cheap edition of Hugo's last work. 8vo, paper 75 cents.

CHAPTERS ON ANIMALS, by Philip Gilbert Hamerton. (Roberts Bros.) Few more genial or readable books have been written on our domestic animals than the above. The author it is evident has been a close observer of animals and a lover of them, and he says, "describes what he has seen rather than what other writers have recorded." No one can go through the chapters without pleasure, so many new and curious stories are contained in them, with so much that is amusing and at the same time true. The illustrations, 20 in number, are by two celebrated animals painters, Karl Bodmer and J. Veyrassat. 12mo, cloth, $2.00.

WALDFRIED. A novel, by Berthold Auerbach. Translated by Simon Alder Stern. (Henry Holt & Co.) The form in which Auerbach presents his last, and, according to his own judgment, his best novel, is most unpretentious. It is autobiographical, its narrator, Heinrich Waldfried, telling the story of his long and eventful life, in a quiet, easy, gossipy manner, to all appearance utterly devoid of art. He relates the history of each member of his family, their loves, hopes and vicissitudes, with so many details and anecdotes of his friends and neighbors, that the reader will probably grow impatient. His story covers the eventful period in German history dating from 1848 to 1872. The old man has been a delegate to the German Parliament, and an eye-witness to the successful struggle of Germany towards unity,—and of the last desperate fight with France over Alsace. Out of his apparently aimless talk grows a vivid history of this time and its various actors, wrought in with so true a portrait of the German character of to-day, that from what at first may seem a purposeless story is gained as perfect a picture of the period as will ever probably be written. The work must be judged as a whole, and by the impression it leaves behind, as it is impossible to apply to it the tests used in judging an ordinary novel. The plot is nothing, nor are the characters remarkable, and yet over all is thrown the spell of Auerbach's genius. We must call attention to the binding in which "Waldfried" appears. It is quite unique—a delicate, pearl-colored cloth, bearing upon the front cover the Prussian arms in five colors. 12mo, $2.00.

BRIEF ESSAYS AND BREVITIES, by George H. Calvert. (Lee & Shepard.) The subjects of Mr. Calvert's essays are so various, that it would be impossible in our limited space to note even a portion of them. We can only recommend them as most charming reading. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

BAEDEKER'S SWITZERLAND. Hand-book for Travellers. (James R. Osgood & Co.) The travelling community will be glad to know of an American edition of these favorite hand-books. They are noted for their accuracy and completeness, and the care bestowed upon the maps, time-tables and various other aids to travelling which they contain. 16mo, cloth, $2.50.

THE FOUR CIVILIZATIONS OF THE WORLD, by Henry Wikoff. (J. B. Lippincott & Co.) The author states that the object of his book is to give a "concise and intelligent exposition of the history of France, England and the United States." To clearly explain the bearing of many questions of the present day, he traces out the world's history from the very beginning. Asia and Africa, the first two civilizations, are briefly disposed of. The early history of America is condensed into three pages, and labelled "Mystery." To the fourth civilization "Christianity," is devoted almost the entire space of the book. Under this heading we have a resume of the history of Europe and of the United States through the various administrations down to that of John Quincy Adams. Mr. Wikoff speaks in his concluding chapters of another work, which he proposes giving to the world, and to which this seems but an introduction, "The History of my Times." We know no one so well fitted for this task as himself. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

A SATCHEL GUIDE TO EUROPE. (Hurd & Houghton.) This is the third annual edition of this little book. It has been revised and corrected to date, and has had a new feature added to it, in the "Traveller's Calendar" of ecclesiastical and popular festivals, pilgrimages, fairs, etc. It will also be found to contain three new maps, covering all the routes described in the book. 12mo, $2.00.

LITERARY AND TRADE NEWS.

THE first volume of the Bric-a-Brac series is already in a second edition.

MISS NELLIE M. HUTCHINSON, who for some time did up many of the "Literary Notes" in the Tribune, is now writing literary chat in letters from Staten Island, under the title of "The Gossip in Literature." In her last she states that Miss Anna Dickinson's book—which is not to be a novel, nor a Protest, nor anything of that sort—is coming in a short time. It is a series of talks or sketches of her experiences in going up and down and round about in lecturing.

"THE History of the International," translated from the French of Edmond Villetard, editor of The Journal des Débats, by S. M. Day, with an Introduction by Professor Henry N. Day, is announced for immediate publication by Geo. H. Richmond & Co., New Haven, Conn. This is the authoritative book on the subject, giving by far the best statement of this powerful social organization. The book is sure to interest all interested in labor, in politics, or in social progress.

MESSRS. THOMAS COOK & SON, the "excursionists," are about to issue in conjunction with a London publishing house, a series of popular Tourists' Guides. The series is to commence with "Switzerland," which will be issued the present month, and is to be followed by similar handbooks to Holland, Belgium and the Rhine, and Italy.

THE Evening Mail states that Mr. Parton is collecting material for a history of caricature, in which its influence on American politics, through the pencil of Nast and others, will have prominence.

A NEW volume by the venerable Dr. Leonard Bacon, of New Haven, is in press at the Harpers. It is on the important subject of "The Genesis of the New England Churches," upon which he is especially qualified to write.

MR. CATHCART'S "Literary Reader" will give especial space to specimens of the best modern scientific literature, from the works of Huxley, Tyndall, Agassiz, Gray, Dana, and others. A concise biographical sketch precedes the selection from each author.

BAZAR Books of the Toilet and of the Household are to follow those on Health and on Decorum at the Harpers.

A LIFE of Rear-Admiral Foote, one of the model officers of our navy, whose loss called forth the grief of the whole nation, has been written by Professor Hoppin, of Yale College, and will be issued by the Harpers.

WE learn from an exchange that the work on which Mr. Edward H. Knight, civil and mechanical engineer and editor of the United States Patent Office Gazette, has been for some time engaged, promises to be of special interest and value to mechanics, and all who are interested in the progress of invention and art. It is an American mechanical dictionary, giving descriptive definitions of machines, tools, instruments, and processes in an alphabetical order, forming a complete reference book of information concerning the mechanical appliances of science and the industrial and fine arts. Every instrument named is to be found fully described in its alphabetical place, as, for instance, the 900 terms used in civil and hydraulic engineering, 500 surgical instruments and appliances, 900 terms in mining, metallurgy, and metal working, and 500 agricultural implements. Mr. Knight, by the way, was the compiler of Bryant's Library of Poetry and Song.

IN the U. S. Circuit Court at Portsmouth, N.H., in the case of H. E. Hunter, R. W. Day and H. R. Vialle, of the firm of Hunter & Co., of Hinsdale, indicted October 9, 1873, for sending through the mails matter prohibited by the United States statutes, the first-named retracted his former plea of not guilty and entered a plea of nolo contendere. He was fined $500, which he paid, and also gave bonds in $3,000. A nolle prosequi was entered in the cases of the other parties.

"THE Story of a House," an entertaining account of house-building in all its stages, for youthful and other unprofessional readers, written and illustrated by Violet le Duc, the celebrated French architect, is a promised venture of Jas. R. Osgood & Co.

JULES VERNE'S "Adventures of Capt. Hatteras" is now to be issued by the Osgoods instead of the Lippincotts.

MR. VAN NOSTRAND has in preparation a new work by Julius W. Adams, the well-known engineer, and at present Chief Engineer of the Board of City Works, Brooklyn, entitled "Sewers and Drains for Populous Districts, embracing Rules and Formulas for the Dimensions and Construction of Works of Sanitary Engineers." Col. Adams has had long practical experience in this branch of engineering work.

A "Cyclopædia of the Practice of Medicine," to be issued in a series of independent treatises, is preparing by a number of the most eminent clinical instructors in Germany. Dr. H. Von Ziemssen, Professor of Clinical Medicine at Erlangen, appreciating the view of a work corresponding to the present advanced standpoint of medical science, was the originator of the plan, and it is at his request the articles are written. The work will be completed in fifteen volumes, large octavo of from 500 to 700 pages, and will embrace the entire range of special pathology and therapeutics. Messrs. Wm. Wood & Co. of this city are to publish an English translation of the work, of which the first volume will be ready in August, and subsequently one at intervals of three months.

IT is not an unheard-of thing for private enterprise to outstrip official solemnity, but a curious instance in publishing is at hand. The Illinois Legislature has been making and revising laws like other legislatures, and at the session just closed provided for the official publication of the Statutes of Illinois. The acts passed go into force on the first of July next, and it is announced that the official publication will be not earlier than September. The Illinois people, however, will not be able to plead ignorance, for Col. W. L. Gross, well known as a lawyer of Springfield, Ill., and publisher of Gross's Statutes, had no intention of waiting till all the laws had a chance to be broken. The Legislature rose March 31, and Col. Gross is now at the Riverside Press, Cambridge, superintending the printing and binding of the third volume of "the Statutes of Illinois," containing all the Acts of 1873-4. He announces the book, a volume of 500 pages, for the 10th of June, and by the 20th of that month it will be for sale in all parts of Illinois.

HARPER & BROS. have just published a new Descriptive List, changing from the 16mo form to the 8vo. It is an immense catalogue, occupying 213 pages, of which the useful classified and individual index takes up forty.

A NUMBER of new volumes will be added shortly to the Harpers' brown paper novels, the staple of circulating library literature. They are all English; the first will be "At Her Mercy" by Jas. Payn; Mrs. Muloch Craik's new story "My Mother & I," which is thought by readers of it in the magazine to be among her best works, so tender and lovely as it is, will follow; and Miss Braddon's "Taken at the Flood," written by her for the combination of eight English newspapers, will be ready early in June.

THE Messrs. Putnam are preparing for the cholera, or rather are preparing not to have it. Two English books which they will issue on this side are of especial importance in this direction, "Sanitary Arrangements for Dwellings," in which Mr. Wm. Earsie gives good advice for the board of health, architects, housebuilders, etc., and "Observations on the Pathology and Treatment of Cholera," by John Murray, M.D., Inspector-General of Hospitals, the result of forty years' experience, largely in India. "An Epitome of Therapeutics," by Dr. W. D. Stone, is also forthcoming.

Foreign News.

REFERENCE CATALOGUE OF CURRENT LITERATURE.—The London Bookseller, of May 2, says, the delay in issuing this work has been caused by the want of punctuality on the part of contributors in not sending their Catalogues in to time. Advantage was, however, taken in the delay in order to extend the Index, and thus make the work more valuable for Reference. The Index is now complete and in the printer's hands, and the Catalogue itself will be issued about the middle of the month.

A NEW monetary work, intended to show the importance of American municipal bonds as investments, is in the press. It will be published by Messrs. Whitaker & Co.

GREEK Anthology is to be the subject of the twentieth volume of the series of "Ancient Classics for English Readers," and is to be written by Lord Neaves.

* The Lithographia of Vienna publishes an urgent appeal from Frau Ludovica Sennefelder, widow of the only son of the inventor of lithography, for assistance in her distressed condition. Some who have grown rich by the invention which brought no wealth to the inventor may be disposed to respond.

J. R. PLANCHE is engaged on a Cyclopædia of Costume in England from the earliest period to the reign of George the Third, with notices of contemporaneous fashions on the continent, and now the work will be published in monthly parts by Chatto and Windus.

THE forthcoming new edition of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" is making satisfactory progress. The first volume will probably be ready towards the close of the year. The dissertations will not be given in a prefatory way, as in the last edition, but will be incorporated in the work.

THE Athenæum announces that Mr. MacGahan, correspondent of the N. Y. Herald and the only Western journalist the Russians suffered to accompany their forces to Khiva, is to publish in England his experiences. He will first describe life among the Kirghiz of the Kizil Koom, then give an account of the last Russian expedition to Khiva, and finally discuss the complications likely to arise out of the expedition.

Novelties.

CHIVALRIE, A NEW LAWN GAME. We have received from the publishers of the popular indoor game, Avilude, previously mentioned in this paper, a well illustrated catalogue descriptive of their new out-door game of Chivalrie, which, to judge from the press notices, promises to become a dangerous rival to Croquet, claiming a greater variety of combination, better chances for calculation and skill, and a more ornamental appearance in its picturesque implements. A variety of sets has been produced for the market, selling, according to material and finish, at from $1,000 down to $8 per set. We shall be glad to have an opportunity of giving our testimony in this matter. In the meanwhile dealers will do well to send for a catalogue. Address West & Lee Game and Printing Co., Worcester, Mass.

CRANDALL'S ACROBATS. Dealers hardly will run any risk in ordering samples of this very droll and amusing novelty, consisting of a box of highly colored figures, admitting an endless combination of daring or ludicrous acrobatic feats. A large sheet, illustrating how it works and serving at the same time as bill to "Crandall's Great Show," accompanies each box. Price, retail, $1.00 each.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

BOSTON.—Henry A. Young and N. J. Bartlett, formerly doing business under the firm names of Henry A. Young & Co., 24 Cornhill, and N. J. Bartlett, 62 & 64 Cornhill, have formed a copartnership, under the style of Young & Bartlett, as publishers and booksellers.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—George H. Richmond and F. W. Patten having purchased the interests and assumed the liabilities of the late firms of George H. Richmond & Co., and Wilson & Co., propose to continue the bookselling and publishing business under the firm name of Richmond & Patten, and have removed their stock to No. 296 Chapel street.

For 1874-1875,

In addition to a much fuller representation of Publishers' and Stationers' Trade Lists than in last year's volume, is to contain a specially prepared Reference List of Books recorded in the Publishers' Weekly from Jan. 16, 1873, to July 1, 1874 (eighteen months), all arranged in one Alphabet, uniform with the Reference List of Books from Jan. 18, 1872, to Jan. 16, 1873—a feature which alone is worth the price of subscription. The volume is expected to comprise over 1800 pages large 8vo, bound in cloth.

TERMS.

1. The price will be One Dollar per copy.
2. In order to insure the contributing publishers against any waste of material and unnecessary expense, and ourselves against any risk which the low price would not warrant, only a very limited number of copies will be bound beyond the number of copies subscribed for, and these will be sold at a price justified by the value of the volume.
3. It is desirable that the subscription should be closed at the earliest date possible. In order to comply with the generally expressed request to have the volume ready two months earlier than last year, at least in time to be of use for making up fall orders, publishers should be notified of the number of Catalogues and Trade Lists needed by June 1st at the latest. Almost all the shortcomings of last year's issue may be attributed to the short time given for the preparation of so extensive a work.
4. No subscription can be accepted after the number of copies to be printed has been determined upon.
5. No subscriptions can be taken in account that have not been paid up when the number of copies to be printed will be determined upon, as the small amounts will neither bear the trouble, nor the expense or risk, of numerous accounts, bills, statements and subsequent collections.
6. Remittances should be made by money order on New York, or registered letter, as we cannot be responsible for any losses. Receipt for remittance, with attached order for delivery, will be sent by return mail.
7. Booksellers, in their own interest, are requested to call the attention of librarians and large bookbuyers to the ANNUAL; but copies ordered by the latter must be subscribed for through booksellers. Except in the case of subscribers to the Publishers' Weekly, all inquirers will be referred to their local dealer.

Orders for over 1,000 copies of the TRADE LIST ANNUAL for 1873-1874 were received after publication day too late to be filled by the publisher. It is to be hoped that the disappointed, and the trade in general, will come forward more promptly this year.

The Martyrdom of Man.

By WINWOOD READE. 12mo, cloth, pp. 543. $3.00

"It is a splendid book, you may depend upon it! It is the best thing Trübner (the great London house) ever published."—Charles Bralaugh.

"The author has travelled extensively in Africa and the East, and, musing among unknown tribes and the crumbling ruins of past greatness, has developed a historic spirit not unlike that which Gibbon tells us he himself was inspired with amid the relics of ancient Rome. In this spirit he has given us, under the four heads of War, Religion, Liberty, and Intellect, a history of the growth of these forces, and their action and reaction on the race. We can conceive of no more attractive form for presenting a summary of world history to the student, and must confess to a most agreeable surprise and pleasure in the perusal of the few chapters we have examined. His history has a continuity, a rush, a carrying power—if we may use the term—which remind us strikingly of Gibbon, and will be sure to make the reader lay it aside with reluctance."—New Haven Daily Palladium.

"There will be plenty of readers who will find in the work food for which they are hungry and eager."—Boston Journal.

"Mr. Reade is now one of the most experienced of living travellers in Central Africa. . . . Is an able and agreeable writer, and has here amassed a multitude of facts and comments into a very pleasant volume."—N. Y. Daily Times.

"Those who wish to learn the tendencies of modern thought, and to look at past history from the standpoint of one who accepts the doctrine of evolution in its entirety, would do well to read this remarkable book. All the radicalisms of the times in philosophy and religion are restated here with remarkable vigor and force."—The Daily Graphic.

"We consider the book dangerous in the highest degree, the more so that its brilliant rhetoric and its very audacity give it a fatal charm."—Hartford Post.

A TOUCHING STORY.

One of the most touching stories in print. No one can read it without having awakened in him the better feelings of his nature.

AUTUMN LEAF STORIES. By E. M. J. Nine Illustrations. 18mo.....60 cts.

There are nine stories for the young in this little volume. Each is an argument against some fault—selfishness, revenge, theft, pride, etc., or an exhortation to some virtue of Christian character. The stories are very neatly told, and embalm the moral so that it will be preserved, and may be useful.

THE LEADING AMERICAN NEWSPAPER.

BETTER THAN EVER.

"The new TRIBUNE of to-day, like the old TRIBUNE of the past, is to be consecrated to the development of ideas, the exposition of principles, and the promulgation of truth."

The unanimous and unsolicited verdict of the hundreds of thousands of readers of THE TRIBUNE, is that the paper was never so good as at the present time. During the past year it has enlarged its field and improved its facilities in every direction, and enters upon the year 1874, which is to be one of the most important in public and political affairs, with most encouraging prospects. THE TRIBUNE, however, believes in deeds rather than in words, in results rather than in promises. It points to its record and its columns for the past twelve months as the best evidence of what it has done, and the most satisfactory pledge of what it will do. All the distinctive features of the paper will be preserved and strengthened; the "Extras," whose sale has reached hundreds of thousands, will be continued; the front of its new building completed, and the present admitted pre-eminence of the paper not only maintained, but still further advanced.

TERMS OF THE TRIBUNE.

DAILY (by Mail), one year, $10.
SEMI-WEEKLY, one year, $3; five copies, one year, $12.50; ten copies (and one Extra), one year, $25.

WEEKLY, one year, $2; five copies, $7.50; ten copies, $12.50; twenty copies, $22; and thirty copies, $30.

Each person procuring a club of ten or more subscribers is entitled to one extra WEEKLY, and of fifty or more to a SEMI-WEEKLY. Papers addressed separately to each member of the clubs will be charged ten cents additional to the above rates.

To Clergymen the DAILY TRIBUNE will be sent one year for $9; the SEMI-WEEKLY for $2.50; and the WEEKLY for $1.50.

TO BOOKSELLERS AND NEWSDEALERS.

The attention of the trade generally is called to the New York Tribune Extras, of which a full list to date is herewith given. The demand for the standard literature which the Extras contain is steadily growing, as shown by the regular and constant increase of sales. The unrivalled cheapness of these Extras places them within reach of all classes of the reading community. Nearly all have a permanent character and value, which assures dealers of a constant and well-sustained sale. We offer to the trade a liberal discount on the Extras in quantities, whether taken in full sets or in selected numbers. Circulars, giving full details of the contents of each extra sheet, and bearing the dealer's imprint, will be supplied free of charge. "A LIVELY BOOK OF EUROPEAN TRAVEL"
BEATEN PATHS; OR, A WOMAN'S VACATION. By MRS. ELLA W. THOMPSON. 16mo. Cloth.....$1.50

"Mrs. Thompson says the paths of European travel are beaten paths; but she sees the old scenes with fresh eyes, and writes about them in a piquant and pleasant manner. She seems to have hit upon just the most charming things to see; and she carried to them a wealth of legend and romance and history which enabled her to fill every storied scene with its own appropriate ghosts."—*N. A UNIQUE VOLUME.
CAST CATALOGUE OF ANTIQUE SCULPTURE. With an Introduction to the Study of Ornament, and nearly 100 Photographic Illustrations. By W. T. BRIGHAM. Large 4to.....$15.00

From personal examinations of the celebrated museums of the old world, a long and faithful examination of the foreign art catalogues, the author has prepared a work of great value to all interested in art education. His work comprises a full catalogue of all the famous sculptures, with descriptions, dimensions, measurements, and in many cases photographic illustrations, and is in many respects a superior book. It is printed on fine toned plated and hot-pressed paper, at the "University Press," with photography illustrations the size of the book (8 x 12 inches).

CHARLES SUMNER'S LAST WORK.

Aside from its literary and historical merits, this volume has a special interest, from the fact that it was the last work on which Mr. Sumner was engaged before his death.

"Prophetic Voices" will be found of great value to all who take an interest in the history of our country, so full is it of passages in which the unexampled prosperity of our land has been foretold by philosophers, poets, statesmen, and orators, of whom the lamented author has also given interesting sketches.

"THE TRUE PHILOSOPHY OF HISTORY."
THE SECRET OF CHRISTIANITY.

By Rev. S. S. HEBBERD. 12mo.....$1.50

"The leading idea of the book is of value. It has deep significance to-day in respect to many of the gravest problems that beset us; its worth to him who can grasp it as a living truth, and not a mere intellectual conception, is incalculable, and hearty thanks are due for this fascinating study and clear exposition of it."—The Christian Leader, N. Y.

"THE ADMIRABLE ESSAYIST."
BRIEF ESSAYS AND BREVITIES.

By GEO. H. CALVERT, author of "Goethe, his Life and Works." An Essay.....$1.50

"This is one of a number of similar books that have been written from time to time by eminent writers, and one which is calculated to attract a large number of readers. It consists of a series of ably-written essays upon a diversity of subjects, all of which may be read with profit, and some one of which will be certain to accord with the varying moods of the mind. The latter portion of the book consists of a number of pithy sayings and proverbs, spiritual, literary, on conduct and miscellaneous topics. It is just the book to have upon a parlor or study table to be picked up in brief moments of leisure."—Press, Portland.

"BRILLIANT, POETICAL, FINISHED."
THE ITALIAN GIRL.

By MRS. KATHARINE SEDGWICK WASHBURN, author of "Ina." 12mo.....$1.50

"A very well-written story, romantic yet probable."—Philadelphia Press.

"Lovers of art and Italy will read with keen interest this fresh story."—Boston Traveller.

"It is a brilliant and charming love story. We cordially recommend it to our readers as a work that cannot fail to interest and charm them, not only by the clearness of the story, but by the sparkling and artistic manner in which it is treated."—Boston Gazette.

ARYAN CIVILIZATION.
THE ANCIENT CITY.

A Study on the Religion, Laws, and Institutions of Ancient Greece and Rome. By FAUTEL DE COULANGES. Translated from the latest French Edition. By Willard Small. Cloth, Cr. 8vo.....$2.50

This is the only translation into English of La Cite Antique, a book which was crowned on its first appearance by the French Academy, and which in no very long time has passed through four editions in France.

All teachers of the Greek and Latin languages, all who read the ancient Greek and Roman writers, either in the original or in translation, and all who desire to understand the essential and fundamental difference between ancient and modern history, will find this book of the greatest interest.

A PRACTICAL AND USEFUL GUIDE-BOOK.
LONDON DIRECTORY FOR AMERICAN TRAVELLERS FOR 1874.

Containing the fullest information, in the best form for reference, respecting all that is valuable in connection with a visit to London. By CHAS. E. PASCOE. 16mo.....$1.00

"The Annual London Directory promises to supply a want constantly felt by visitors to London. Mr. Pascoe devotes the main portion of his book to matters of expense, such as hotels, lodgings, cab-fares, tradesmen, trains, &c., and leaves the historical points and the sight-seeing to a short appendix. As Mr. Pascoe was formerly a resident of London, he is well conversant with his subject."—N. Y. Evening Post.
